OUTLOOK: Arizona, New Mexico and California will be mostly sunny, and unseasonably warm and dry, with light winds. High temperatures will range from the 70's in the mountains, 80's and 90's in the lower valleys, to 105 in the deserts. This weekend will bring near record temperatures with highs up to 112 in the lower deserts. The potential for escaped fires remains in the Southwest and Southern California Areas as extremely hot and dry conditions prevail.
